

ARTICOLO

A SERENE URBAN OASIS IN THE CENTRE OF AMSTERDAM

An apartment set in the midst of the Dutch capital by designer Martijn Veldman for an Australian client now based in Amsterdam, is a seamless blend of nuanced detail underpinned by period features and classic design.

Veldman's client, also a friend of Articolo, was adamant he wanted to bring some of his origin into his new home, so light was both a natural and distinctive element that could be cohesively woven into the project's DNA.

Their collaboration was an opportunity to include pieces from Articolo's Domi, Fizi, Lumi and Scandal collections throughout the home, from the kitchen and dining area to the study and master ensuite, punctuating moments of place while creating a luminous ambience.

"Gavin was immediately attracted to my love of shadow play. We curated a selection of designs that layered the space and added a natural sense of artisanal sophistication."
